

SEATTLE PSYCHOANALYTIC SOCIETY AND INSTITUTE

CAPP PROGRAM -FALL 2009

DREAMS AND DREAMING

Instructor: Gary Grenell, Ph.D. Tel. (206) 328-0262

Week 1: September 28, 2009 Classical Theory

McLeod, M. (1992). The evolution of Freud's theory about dreaming. Psychoanalytic Quarterly. 61:37-64

Other relevant articles:

Garma, A. (1966). I. Dreams and their psychoanalytic interpretation. II. The dream work. In The Psychoanalysis of Dreams. Chapter pp. 22-64 Quadrangle Books: Chicago.

Blum, H. (1976). The changing use of dreams in psychoanalytic practice—dreams and free association. International Journal of Psychoanalysis. 57:315-324

Week 2: October 5, 2009 Ego Psychological Model and Defense Analysis

Goldberger, M. (1989). On the analysis of defenses in dreams. Psychoanalytic Quarterly, 58: 396-417

Week 3: October 12, 2009 Dreams as narrative

Aron, L. (1989). Dreams, narrative and the psychoanalytic method. Contemporary Psychoanalysis 25:108-126

Week 4: October 19, 2009 Organizational Model (Encompassing Self-Psychological Model)

Fosshage, James. (1997). The organizing functions of dream mentation. Contemporary Psychoanalysis. July Vol. 33:429-458

Week 5: October 26, 2009 Another Look at Dreaming

Robbins, M. (2004). Another look at dreaming. JAPA, 52:355-384

Week 6: November 2, 2009 Kleinian Model

Grinberg, L. (1987). Dreams and acting out. The Psychoanalytic Quarterly. 56:155-176

Week 7: November 9, 2009 Bionian Model

Ogden, T. (2003). On not being able to dream. International Journal of Psychoanalysis 84:17-30

Week 8: November 16 2009 Affect in dreaming

Grenell, G. (2007). Affect integration in dreams and dreaming. Journal of the American Psychoanalytic Association, 56: 223-251